

Driving Digital Strategies

20th to 24th June 2022

The second week of the 3 week E-Business and Technology course incorporates a special program on Driving Digital Strategies. To effectively compete in today's digital landscape, Post must leverage digital and social platforms that make it easier for consumers to access relevant and timely information, connect with people they care about, and willingly engage in brand-building behavior. This timely program is designed to help Post make digital and social media a powerful part of its overall business strategy. This program provides a fundamental analysis of how to think about your customers and industry differently, and a framework to help you design digital and social strategies.
